"In this region on March 2! a long black craft without a flag, having a gray funnel, small gray forward works, and two high masts, was encountered about the middle of the English Channel, by a German submarine. The German commander reached the definite conclusion that it was a war vessel, and, indeed, a mine layer of the recently built English Arabis class. He was led to this conviction by the following facts; first, by the plain, unbroken pleck of the ship; second, the form of the stern, sloping downwarl and backward, like a war vessel; fourth, the high speed developed, about eighteen knots; fifth, the circumstaaces that the
